PERISHED IN A MINE RUN DOWN AT LAST

Johnstown, Pa., Visited By Another Awful Catastrophe.

Explosion in a Big Mine Results in the Death of Perhaps 200 Miners.

SCENES TERRIBLE TO WITNESS

Johnstown, Pa., July 11—Johnstown has again been visited by an appalling disaster.

It is only less frightful than the awful calamity of May 31, 1889, in cost of life, but in its terrible consequences it has brought the shadow of sorrow into hundreds of homes made desolate by a mine explosion which took place in the Cambria Steel company rolling mill under Westmont Hill yesterday afternoon.

How many are dead will take several days to fully determine, but it is a long and shocking list, it is certain. It may reach 200 or more.

At the opening across the river from the point the Cambria Iron company police, with several assistants, stood guard, permitting no one to enter the mine from which noxious gases were coming. It was nearly 1 o'clock when all hope of sending rescue parties from the Westmont opening was abandoned. Two men who had escaped from the mine—Richard Bennett and John Meyers—went back two miles to see what assistance could be rendered, but the frightful damp drove them back and they fell prostrate when they finally, after a desperate struggle, reached the outside.

The few survivors who escaped from the depths of the mine describe the condition to be frightful. Outside of the Klondike the mines are safe and uninjured. Within the fatal limits the havoc wrought by the explosion is fearful. Solid walls of masonry three feet in thickness were torn down as though made of paper. The roofs of the mine were demolished and not a door remains standing.

Mine Foreman H. Rodgers, his assistant, William Blane, and Fire Bosses John Whitney, John Retallick and John Thomas were overcome by the gases and it is feared perished in a heroic effort to rescue the miners.

It will be absolutely impossible to state the loss of life until the rescuers reach the scene of the disaster.

President Powell Stackhouse gave out the following statement: "The disaster is an unusual one, and came on us entirely unexpected. The mine had been inspected only three days ago, and was pronounced in satisfactory condition. The cause is yet indefinite, but I believe it was caused by gas escaping from the fifth heading, which was closed and was not being worked because it contained gas."

"The number of casualties is now placed at 125. No list of the names of dead miners can be given, for the majority of them were foreigners and were known only by check and not by name."

The mine in which the dreadful thing occurred is one of the largest coal mines in the United States, according to the statement of the officials tonight. The mine is divided into a large number of headings, levels and sections. The men who escaped this afternoon are familiar with the mines. They have spent years working in it. Otherwise they could never have reached the surface. Lights were out and there was no way for them to find their way to the top had they not known the mine perfectly.

Eighty-seven blackened and mangled bodies have been taken from the mine up to this afternoon.

Will Briggs. Wanted for Murdering a Man in Indiana, Caught.

He Killed Another Waiter of the Buckskin Bill Show at New Castle, Ind.

IS IN JAIL AT WICKLIFFE

Captain Henry Bailey and Marshal Crow have succeeded in running down a murderer who has been wanted for over a year, and have him safe in the hands of the police at Wickliffe, Ky.

May 2, a year ago, Will Briggs, colored, murdered another negro in the cooking tent of the Buckskin Bill Wild West show at New Castle, Ind., by stabbing him to the heart with a butcher knife and made his escape. The officers throughout the country were notified of the crime and the local police began hunting him down. Captain Bailey had been on his track for the past several months and a few days ago succeeded in locating him at Wickliffe. He telegraphed the officers there to arrest the man which was done and Captain Bailey last night received a telegram saying that the arrest had been made. He sent an answering message instructing the Wickliffe officer, Deputy Sheriff M. J. Hammond, who made the arrest, to hold the prisoner and then telegraphed Sheriff Christopher, of New Castle, to come after him. Briggs will not be brought through Paducah. This is another piece of work to the credit of the local police and they should feel highly gratified in their success.

Several times it was thought Briggs was located, but he always contrived to elude the officers. His home is in Paducah, and the murdered man lived at Cairo. Both were waiters.

TRACY AGAIN.

THE PERFECT LIVER MEDICINE

Mrs. M. A. Jolley, Noble, C. T., writes: "I have used Herbine for a number of years, and can cheerfully recommend it as the most perfect liver medicine, and the greatest blood purifier. It is a medicine of positive merit, and fully accomplishes all that is claimed for it." Malaria cannot find lodgment in the system while the liver is in perfect order, for one of its functions is to prevent the absorption of fever producing poisons. Herbine is a most efficient liver regulator. 50c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

THE BILL DEFEATED

Aldermen Knock out the Steam Heating Franchise Ordinance.

Mayor Yeiser Last Night Appointed

His Board of Fire and Police Commissioners.

OTHER BUSINESS OF ALDERMEN

The board of aldermen met in regular session last night with all members present except Alderman Boone.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and adopted.

The action taken in the transfer of the ferrage privilege of Owen Bros. to James Owen was ratified and the bond accepted.

The mayor appointed his fire and police commissioners. board as follows: M. W. Clark, G. P. Husbands and Richard Holland snreties; J. K. Bonds, Gns Singleton and Robert Noble snreties; Pete Rogers, J. C. Gilbert and J. C. Jones snreties, and R. R. Sutherland, Dr. J. G. Reddick and George Bondurant snreties. The appointments and bondmen were ratified and accepted.

The invitation to the board to attend the Metropolis street fair on Paducah day, July 16, in a body, was accepted.

The mayor was authorized to appoint delegates to attend the sixth annual convention of the American Association of municipalities to be held in Grand Rapids.

President Noble requested that the board take some action in regard to repairs to streets and pavements and to adopt some ordinance or means to compel the property owners to make needed repairs. The mayor was instructed to issue such orders necessary to effect this end and, if necessary, to draw up an ordinance governing the case.

The resignation of J. C. Utterback as city printer was accepted and the appointment of the News-Democrat made by City Attorney Jesse Gilbert and endorsed by Council Attorney Worten, was received and the same filed.

Bills against the city for salaries, etc., amounting to several thousand dollars were presented and allowed.

The school fund amounting to $9,398.95 was ordered paid in addition to the regular bills and also was the $30,000 in notes against the city, when the same fall due.

President Noble asked if the board exceeded its legal authority in taking the money out of any fund set aside for purposes other than the payment of the notes, and Council Attorney Worten "thought" it was not. There is not enough in the fund set aside to pay the notes and the money will have to be borrowed from other funds.

The payment of $627.50 for two lots to H. H. Evans and Dr. Caldwell, to be paid when the deeds are turned over to the city, was ordered.

The auditor's and treasurer's report, showing a total deposit for the past month of $44,408.68 with $67,774.23 collections and $28,379.60 disbursements, leaving a balance of $4,408.68, was received, filed and concurred in.

The report of the fire chief was read and filed. He reported the salaries, amounting to $636, due; 10 fires during the past month; 13 fire cisterns in bad repair; the Standard building at 45, North Fourth street, in bad repair and unsafe and asked that the merchants be instructed not to burn any more trash in their back yards or in the street as it is dangerous and likely to cause fires. All the suggestions and reports were referred to the joint fire committee for investigation and action.

Alderman Langstaff, of the ordinance committee, read the steam heating plant franchise ordinance and lively times ensued. President Noble left the chair in charge of Alderman Leigh and made a long speech against the passing of the ordinance, saying that the paper had not come to the board in clean form and for that reason should be referred. He also stated that there were several points that should be well considered before taking any definite steps. He said that the rates charged were not specified and that for this reason the council would know nothing of the step it was taking, and he would suggest that the rate be bargained by the rates charged in other cities, and so stated in the ordinance; that there was nothing in the ordinance to compel the company to extend its piping to certain portions of the city; that the city should have some control of the plant operations when it had any relations with the city affairs, and last that the price set out in the ordinance, $500, was too small for such a big enterprise and that he thought the city should get more out of the franchise. He stated that the Illinois Central had been charged $500 to run through the post house property and in comparison with the present enterprise, he thought the rate charged for the franchise very small indeed. He suggested that the ordinance be referred and that a profile of the territory, the company to be restricted to a certain territory or district, be drawn and furnished the city.

Attorney R. T. Lightfoot then spoke in behalf of the heating company and said that the grounds on which Mr. Noble objected were not so strong and that as far as the ordinance coming to the board in bad form was concerned, that he thought it was very clean and had a few words only that had been worked in between the lines. As to the other points set out by Mr. Noble he formed strong arguments to the contrary and cited the 50 per cent decrease in costs for heating to the residents and the many other advantages the plant would hold out, giving good examples. Mr. Noble made a short reply and the vote was then taken resulting in an unanimous vote to refer.

An ordinance for the regulation of the market horse hucksters in regard to placing boxes and other obstructions in and about the building was read. It provided for the market master to place the coops, boxes and other articles of the hucksters' outfits where he saw fit and for a violation of the ordinance in obstructing the passages, a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $10 was fixed. The ordinance was referred to the joint license committee.

The resolution to have the mayor appoint two extra officers to drive stray cows to the pound at night was adopted.

The matter of placing in new stage fastenings at the levee instead of the old rotten posts was acted upon favorably and the iron posts ordered placed in.

The following deeds to lots in the cemetery were ratified: One to Mattie Walters and one to John Wooten, and the former was refunded $5 for a lot she deeded back to the city.

A hydrant was ordered placed in the north side of the cemetery.

A telephone was ordered placed in the city scale office.

The matter of allowing Mrs. Riglesberger to place drain pipe in front of her residence at her own expense, was referred.

Water mains were reported extended on Tenth street from Jones to Caldwell and two fire plugs set up. The report was received, filed and concurred in.

The following liquor license transfers were made:

McKinney and Denker to A. Denker, Eleventh and Broadway; G. W. Goff to A. M. Chmrcbill, Fifth and Norton; John Hoffman to Alex. Storle, 121 Court.

H. B. Pitman was refused a license at Ninth and Court streets where Jack Whitesides had applied and been refused. It was stated by Officer Gonreux that Whitesides would manage the business and that he was not a fit man for the business. Rev. George Perryman, in interest of the many ladies who requested that this license, and all others within two squares of the Carnegie library location, requested that the license be refused. The matter was referred.

The matter of allowing Clerk Patterson a clerk was taken up and the motion to refer to the city attorney, who made one report several weeks ago, was lost.

The motion to allow the clerk was carried by a vote of 6 to 1, Alderman Leigh voting no.

Harrison and Flornoy, attorneys, were selected to revise the city ordinances for $350, while the minority report to appoint Ray and Puryear at $325 was lost. The former firm was granted permission to remove record books from the city hall to its office and to return the same every night to the city hall to be locked in a vault for safe keeping.

Aldermen then by motion adjourned.

RAILROAD WORK

Indications Are That the Cairo Extension Will be Delayed.

The Trouble With Laborers Is Settled—Work Progressing Nicely.

Supervisor Martin Orahon, of the Louisville division of the Illinois Central, has gone to Chicago in the interest of the freight handlers' strike and will be absent some time.

Mr. John Lane, the supervisor of the Cairo branch of the road, is acting in his place. Mr. Lane stated this morning that the trouble at Maxon Mills with the grading laborers has been settled and that the work is progressing nicely. The grading contractors have gotten their work as far advanced as the right of way will permit. They have arrived at a point where the right of way is in dispute and the work will necessarily be slightly delayed until the matter is settled in the courts. The trial of the condemnation suits will be held within a few days and the matter settled. The only trouble there is to be experienced is in securing the right of way and most of the property holders have signed up with the railroad and only two or three strips of ground are under dispute. From present indications the road will not be finished at the time specified, and will not be ready for use before the first of the next year. Two miles of track have been laid out of the city limits of Paducah. The work on the Wickliffe end and at Maxon Mills is progressing nicely.

THE NEW BOARD.

MAYOR YEISER HAS NOT YET CALLED IT TOGETHER TO ORGANIZE.

The mayor made the appointments to the board of fire and police commissioners last night at the meeting of the board of aldermen and the bonds of the members were all accepted and the appointments ratified.

This morning Mayor Yeiser stated that he had not decided when he would call the board together and did not know what would be the first business brought up. The mayor is one of the board and has a voice in all its actions. He does not have to sign or ratify the appointments but the board has this power in itself. It is one of the most important boards of the city government. The meetings will be held at the city hall and the first meeting will be called by the mayor.

SUED DOCTORS.

UNUSUAL ACTION BROUGHT AT MEMPHIS.

Memphis, Tenn., July 11—A damage suit for $50,000 was filed here against Drs. Archibald Elean and J. H. Kelly by A. J. Williford, administrator of Mrs. Julia Jowers, who died May 31 under an operation performed by these physicians. The declaration has not been filed, but the ground of the damages is the alleged negligent, improper and skillful performance of the operation and gross violation of the rules of surgery. The criminal end of the case is still in the hands of the grand jury, which has failed so far to return any indictment.

TO SAVE THE BUFFALO.

COL. W. F. OODY APPOINTED THEIR OUSTODIAN IN YELLOWSTONE PARK.

Washington, July 11—President Roosevelt has sent a message to Washington authorizing the appointment of Colonel William F. Oody (Buffalo Bill) to be custodian of the buffalo in Yellowstone park, with a salary of $1,800 and expenses. Buffalo Bill is also authorized to expend $15,000 securing buffalos and transporting them to the park and seeing that they are properly cared for. The president is very anxious to preserve the buffalo and thinks this a good move in that direction.

ONLY TWO BIDS

Library Trustees Met Last Night and Opened Bids for Work.

Outside Contractors Failed to Show up—Local Men Will Get Contract.

Library Trustees Perryman, Lang, Weille and Savage held a meeting last night at Architect Lassiter's office for the purpose of opening bids for building the public library at Ninth and Broadway. The competition had been limited to a few contractors from the city, and two or three outside, and about eight bids only were expected. Even this many were not received, however.

The trustees found that only two contractors cared to bid on the work. These were Messrs. William Karnes and B. T. Davis of Paducah. Both bids were slightly under $30,000, and it is understood that Mr. Davis' is the lowest. The board adjourned over until tonight without awarding the contract, but expects to award it this evening.

The amount Mr. Carnegie is to give Paducah for the library is $35,000, but $5,000 of this is to be used in equipping the building with heating and lighting apparatus.

GO TO METROPOLIS

A CROWD OF PADUCAHANS TO SHOW METROPOLIS BOYS HOW TO SHOOT.

Local marksmen are looking forward with interest to the big shoot to be held in Metropolis one day during the street fair, and expect to carry away the best prizes.

The following shooters have already expressed their intention of entering the events, and will do their best to sustain the reputation of Paducah marksmen: Messrs. Hart Brounough, Walter Wilkins, George Robertson, W. A. Davis, Moses and Ben Starr and Edward Mumford. There will be several other members of the club in attendance who have not yet decided definitely to go, and the railroad engineer's club will also furnish several delegates to the tournament. The Metropolis sportsmen have arranged a nice lot of prizes, and the shoot will be well worth attending. The local shooters are confident that they will bring away first money in all events. There will be marksmen from many nearby Illinois towns, and the shooting will be excellent.

Mercury and Potash

ONLY SERVE AS A MASK FOR CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

They hide its repulsive form, and this serpent disease, stupefied by these drugs, lies dormant until the effects have worn off or treatment is discontinued, when it breaks down the mask and becomes as full of life and venom as ever. Mercury and Potash may dry up the sores and eruptions, but at the same time they drive the poison back into the blood and system, where it feeds upon the tender tissues, membranes and nerves, finally breaking out in most disgusting sores and even destroying the flesh and bones.

Mercury and Potash cannot accomplish a radical and permanent cure. They have a palliative but not curative effect upon this treacherous snake-like disease. These drugs produce mercurial Rheumatism, destroy the teeth and corrode the membranes of the stomach and bowels, causing inflammation and dyspepsia, nervousness and general derangement of the system.

S. S. S. is a Specific for Contagious Blood Poison, and the only antidote for the peculiar virus that spreads so quickly throughout the system, corrupting the blood and infecting every organ and fibre of the body.

S. S. S. destroys the serpent, and eliminates every atom of poison from the blood, it makes a thorough and radical cure of the disease, and at the same time builds up the general health. S. S. S. contains no minerals of any kind, but is a purely vegetable remedy and we offer $1,000 for proof to the contrary.

Write us about your case and our physicians will cheerfully advise without charge. Our home treatment book will be sent free to all who desire it.

A NEW TRUST LAW.

The Republican party has always been the party of the people. The manner in which it is dealing with the trust question has completely routed the Democrats and it is announced on excellent authority that at the next session of congress an anti-trust bill will be introduced by the Republicans, and undoubtedly passed. It will cover every feature of the question and the Democrats in congress, while their votes will be unnecessary, will be invited to vote for the measure on patriotic grounds, if for no other reason. If they are sincere in their opposition to the trusts, they will have to support the bill; if not, they will be forced to virtually acknowledge it.

The president and attorney general realize the great difficulty and danger of hasty legislation in restraint of private enterprise, and have both decided to see how far existing laws will go before entering upon the preparation of a new law. Hence the prosecutions of the Northern Securities company and the beef trust, involving different typical phases of the subject, were intended quite as much to discover where the Sherman law fell short of its author's design as to put its strength to the test. These two suits, which are all that it is the present plan of the administration to undertake till a new law has been enacted, have given the attorney general a great many suggestions. He has embodied them in certain additions to the text of the Littlefield bill or in marginal indications of changes which would be advisable, so that the measure is now much longer and more elaborate.

In the meantime before the next

Advertising sells things that people want far more often than it sells things that they do not want, and part of its mission is to acquaint them with their own needs. As a rule, the article sold to some one who afterwards discovers that it was not needed would better have remained on the advertiser's shelves.

session of congress the attorney general is expected to deliver a well prepared speech, explaining existing conditions, and the administration's theory of dealing with the so-called trusts. It has always been President Roosevelt's desire to check the aggressiveness of trade combination, but at the same time respect private enterprise, and the right of every person to control his own. It is likely that when the Republicans get through with the trust question there will be little left for the Democrats to make an issue of.

A prominent doctor thinks that the sanitary condition of Paducah can never be what it should until there is some system of disposing of garbage. Of course people with a proper regard for their own health and that of the community will have it hauled off regularly, but there are a great many who are content to throw it in to the back yard or alley to decay and contaminate the entire neighborhood. In other cities, many of them only a fourth as large as Paducah, the city has this garbage collected and hauled away regularly at small expense to the people. It should be done here. The city authorities seem to have no regard for the health or welfare of the people. They refuse to require sewerage connections, to have garbage hauled away, to have the streets sprinkled or even to have the gutters flushed. It is said the alleys were never so filthy as now.

It looks as if it would be better for the city, as well as the people, if the gravel now being used was screened before being placed on the street. There is much of it good, but much is dirt and much boulders, the latter being measured in with the rest when the gravel is sold, and then picked out and hauled away after the so-called gravel has been placed on the streets.

A look at the gutters is sufficient to prove the unsanitary condition of the city. Even if the health of the community were good, it could not long remain so with such cesspools existing in the heart of the city. We need to clean up.

All the city has to do to secure good sidewalks in place of those that are worn out and in bad repair, is to enforce the law. If there were no other law governing such cases the statute relating to public nuisances could be applied.

The Sun several weeks ago published the names of the board of fire and police commissioners, and never missed a one. Last night Mayor Yeiser appointed the same four men The Sun mentioned.

The sanitary officers should get a move on them. When the doctors begin to complain of the sanitary condition of the city, it must be pretty bad.

It is sincerely trusted that the city clerk will not be worked to death before the council passes an ordinance giving him an assistant.

The man who wanted a steam heating franchise in Paducah probably did not anticipate stacking up against a coal trust.

SUITS FILED

A. Connor Prepares Action Against Street Car Company.

Wants $2,000 Damages—Suit Over a Tobacco Crop to Be Filed.

Attorneys Cross and Houser have prepared a damage suit against the Paducah Street Railway company and the city, to be filed today by A. Connor, an old man who was hurt near the union depot two or three months ago.

The style of the suit is A. Connor against the Paducah Light, Railway and Power company, and the city of Paducah. The petitioner alleges that he was driving along near the last fill towards the depot, on the right side of the street, when he was forced to cross the track to avoid colliding with a car. There was not enough room on the right side to pass on account of post that was being put up. The wheels of his wagon struck the track and he was thrown out, being badly hurt. He sues for $2,000 damages.

Isom Parham will today file suit through Taylor, Gilbert and Lucas against B. H. Pryor and George C. Wallace for $208 damages. He claims that his crop of tobacco was unlawfully attached two years ago by Pryor, Mr. Wallace being on the attachment bond. The attachment case was tried four times, twice in magistrate's courts and twice in quarterly court, and the plaintiff won it each time. He now sues for $208, the value of the crop, with damages.

TIME'S CHANGES.

MAN WHO WAS ONCE CLERK IS NOW JUDGE.

There is no telling what will happen in twenty years, for it was twenty years ago today when J. W. Hocker was county judge of Graves county, and was out of the city attending to some business in the country, and while he was away James T. Webb, his office clerk, was left in charge to look after the business of the office until his return.

Veto, presto, change. Today James T. Webb is the county judge and is gone to the country and during his absence his office clerk, who is J. W. Hocker, is left in the office to attend to the business of the office until his return.

It is wonderful what office changes can take place in twenty years and this is one of the wonders. Hocker was a good county judge and Webb a good clerk, now Webb is a good county judge and Hocker is a good clerk.

What offices will they hold twenty years from now?—Mayfield Messenger.

CITY LICENSES

Less Than Four Hundred Dogs Licensed by Their Owners.

Considerable Trouble Experienced in Collecting Licenses Now.

It is probable that the authorities will have to begin swearing out warrants against dog owners in order to start more activity in the payment of licenses. Less than four hundred have been paid, and since the work of taking up dogs ceased there has been a perceptible falling off.

License Inspector Ezell states that one trouble in collecting licenses is that many people have learned not to pay until they have to, and they do not have to until warrants are issued against them.

When warrants are issued against owners of dogs for failing to pay licenses, the owners go up and pay before the case is tried in police court, and then tell some pitiable story to the court and have leniency extended. It is the same way with some merchants and professional people. They wait until a warrant has been issued, and then pay, usually being let off from paying a fine. If all such violators of the law were fined when a warrant is issued against them, and the evidence shows they are guilty, it would induce them, as well as others, to always pay licenses when they are due, the inspector thinks.

HIS SISTER ILL.

A Ready Answer.

Little Bobbie G., although only 7 years old, always has a ready tongue and a quick answer, which is the delight of all those who know him. Frequently Bobbie's wits save him rebuke from the parental wrath, as they did only recently. Bobbie had been naughty and his mother deemed it necessary to chastise him with a small switch, of which he stood in great dread, although it was a very frail instrument of punishment. The mother got down the switch and called her son to her. He came reluctantly.

"Bobbie," she said gravely, "I am very sorry that I will have to whip you."
"If you are sorry," came the quick answer, "I will forgive you and you needn't whip me, mamma."

Odd Damage Suit.

A novel suit is on in Hardinsburg, Ky., the seat of a fashionable academy for girls. Four fair students escaped from their rooms at nightfall by means of a ladder of ropes and parrot of a supper with four young men. The girls were expelled and the fathers of three of them, refusing to pay the bills for their tuition, have brought action to recover damages from the academy on the ground that the institution failed to exert and exercise the proper care over and failed to give proper moral inclination to the offenders, thereby permitting them to commit indiscretions whereby their good names and reputations have been injured.

WITH THE THEATERS.

"Best show of the season" was the universal comment of those who attended "My Uncle from Japan" at La Belle Park theatre last night. The play is surely a great one, the story and plot being vigorous and original, the lines extremely witty, situation ludicrous and comical and the action rapid. Mr. Middleton as the natural prevaricator, Captain Racket, did the best high comedy work that has been seen here for a long time. Mr. Bymer as Obadiah Dawson, the uncle from Japan, kept the audience in convulsions of laughter whenever he was on the stage. Mr. Franklin as the "man who had married for money" was pitifully comical. Miss Verdin's rendition of Mrs. Johnson—a lady with a temper—was a superb piece of acting, the infirmities of the character being brought out with true art. Miss Mandeville, who has all of nature's aids—youth, beauty and native wit—played the versatile character of Clarice in an exceptionally fine manner. Mr. Parker in his Dutch specialty made a strong hit, and Mr. Howard's songs were heartily encored. The last performance of this piece will take place tonight. Tomorrow night, by request, the comedy-drama, "Saved from the Sea" will be the offering.

Miss Pearl J. Ford, who has been a member of the English Stock company for the past three weeks, is entitled to great credit for the clever manner in which she took the leading female role in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" last night. Miss Gale, whose illness prevents her appearance in Paducah again, was not in the cast, and Miss Ford took the part with only one rehearsal, and did it well.

The English Stock company entertained an appreciative audience last night with "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," one of its best plays, and one in which Mr. James is especially fine. The specialties were greatly enjoyed. Tonight there will be a big vaudeville bill, and tomorrow will be the company's last day in Paducah.

FOR INSURANCE

PAYMENT OF POLICIES RESIST-ED ON ACCOUNT OF SU-CIDE CLAUSE.

E. E. Wash, guardian for Miss Annie Pollard and Master Cecil Pollard, children of late Sheriff N. B. Pollard, has brought suits in the Trigg circuit court at Cadiz against the Equitable Life Assurance society, Woodmen of the World and Masonic Life Association of Western New York to recover the insurance money Mr. Pollard carried on his life in these several companies. The Woodmen policy is for $1,000, the Equitable for $2,500 and the Masonic for $2,000. The failure upon the part of the companies to pay these policies is due to the suicide clause contained in each. The suits were filed by Colonel Burnett.

DEAD BODIES PRESERVED

CHARLES B. LEWIS CLAIMS HIS DISCOVERY WILL REVOLU-TIONIZE EMBALMING.

Memphis, July 11.—Charles B.
Lewis, a local embalmer, claims to have discovered a fluid which discounts the system employed by the ancient Egyptians for the preservation of dead bodies. He has experimented successfully with the bodies of animals and with cadavers and has made practical demonstrations at the Memphis Hospital Medical college. Mr. Lewis claims that the color is preserved as natural as life and that he can preserve a body for an indefinite period.

He will establish a permanent laboratory and plant in this city for the manufacture of the preparation, which he confidently claims will revolutionize the embalming business, and practically put the taxidermist out of business.

"A Study In Scarlet"

BY CONAN DOYLE

"Now, this was a case in which you were given the result and had to find everything else for yourself. Not let me endeavor to show you the different steps in my reasoning. To begin with the beginning, I approached the house, as you know, on foot and with my mind entirely free from all impressions. I naturally began by examining the doorway, and there, as I have already explained to you, I saw clearly the marks of a cab, which, I ascertained by inquiry, must have been there during the night. I satisfied myself that it was a cab and not a private carriage like narrow gauge of the wheels. The ordinary London growler is considerably less wide than a gentleman's fringed.

"This was the first point gained. I then walked slowly down the garden path, which happened to be composed of a clay soil, peculiarly suitable for tracing impressions. No doubt it appeared to you to be a mere trampled foot-sluish, but to my trained eye every spot upon its surface had a meaning. There is no branch of detective science which is so important and so much neglected as the art of tracing footprints. Happily I have always laid great stress upon it, and much practice has made it second nature to me. I saw the heavy foot-marks of the constables, but I saw also the tracks of the two men who had first passed through the garden. It was easy to tell that they had been before the others, because in places their marks had been entirely obliterated by the others coming upon the top of them. In this way my second link was formed, which told me that the nocturnal visitors were two in number, one remarkable for his height, as I calculated from the length of his stride, and the other fashionably dressed, to judge from the small and elegant impression left by his boots.

"On entering the house this last inference was confirmed. My well booted man lay before me. The tall one, then, had done the murder, if murder there was. There was no wound upon the dead man's person, but the agitated expression upon his face assured me that he had foreseen his fate before it came upon him. Men who die from heart disease or any sudden natural cause never by any chance exhibit agitation upon their features. Having sniffed the dead man's lips, I detected a slightly sour smell, and I came to the conclusion that he had had poison forced upon him. Again, I argued that it had been forced upon him from the hatred and fear expressed upon his face. By the method of exclusion I had arrived at this result, for no other hypothesis would meet the facts. Do not imagine that it was a very unheralded idea. The forcible administration of poison is by no means a new thing in criminal annals. The cases of Doby in Queda and of Leturier in Montpelier will occur at once to any toxicologist.

"And now came the great question as to the reason why. Robbery had not been the object of the murder, for nothing was taken. Was it politics, then, or was it a woman? That was the question which confronted me. I was inclined from the first to the latter supposition. Political assassins are only too glad to do their work neat and fly. This murder had, on the contrary, been done most deliberately, and the perpetrator had left his tracks all over the room, showing that he had been there all the time. It must have been a private wrong and not a political one which called for such a methodical revenge. When the inscription was discovered upon the wall, I was more inclined than ever to my opinion. The thing was too evidently a blind. When the ring was found, however, it settled the question. Clearly the murderer had used it to grind his victim of some dead or absent woman. It was at this point that I asked Gregson whether he had inquired in his telegram to Cleveland as to any particular point in Mr. Drebber's former career. He answered, you remember, in the negative.

"I then proceeded to make a careful examination of the room, which confirmed me in my opinion as to the murderer's height and furnished me with the additional detail as to the Trichinopoly cigar and the length of his nails. I had already come to the conclusion, since there were no signs of a struggle, that the blood which covered the floor had burst from the murderer's nose in his excitement. I could perceive that the track of blood coincided with the track of his feet. It is seldom that any man, unless he is very full blooded, breaks out in this way through emotion, so I hazarded the opinion that the criminal was probably a robust and ruddy faced man. Events proved that I had judged correctly.

"Having left the house, I proceeded to do what Gregson had neglected. I telegraphed to the head of the police at Cleveland, limiting my inquiry to the circumstances connected with the marriage of Enoch Drebber. The answer was conclusive. It told me that Drebber had already applied for the protection of the law against an old rival in love, named Jefferson Hope, and that this same Hope was at present in Europe. I knew now that I held the clue to the mystery in my hand and all that remained was to secure the murderer.

"I had already determined in my own mind that the man who had walked into the house with Drebber was none other than the man who had driven the cab. The marks in the road showed me that the horse had wandered on in a way which would have been impossible had there been any one in charge of it. Where, then, could the driver be unless he were inside the house? Again, it is absurd to suppose that any sane man would carry out a deliberate crime under the very eyes, as it were, of a third person who was sure to betray him. Lastly, supposing one man wished to log another through London, what better means could he adopt than to turn cab driver? All these considerations led me to the irresistible conclusion that Jefferson Hope was to be found among the jaroys of the metropolis.

"If he had been one, there was no reason to believe that he had ceased to be. On the contrary, from his point of view a sudden change would be likely to draw attention to himself. He would, I thought, for a time at least, continue to perform his duties. There was no reason to suppose that he was going under an assumed name. Why should he change his name in a country where no one knew his original one? I therefore began my street arab detective corps and I then systematically to every cab driver in London until they ferreted out the man that I wanted. How they succeeded and how quickly I take advantage of it are still fresh in your recollection. The murder of Stangerson was an incident which was entirely unexpected, but which could hardly have been prevented. Through, as you know, I came into possession of the pills, the existence of which I had already surmised. You see, whole is a chain of logical sequences without a break or flaw."

"It is wonder, I cried. "Your merits should be fully recognized. You should have a full account of the case. If you won't tell for me."

"You may do as you like, doctor," he answered. "See," he continued, handing a paper over to me. "Look at this!"

It was The Echo of the day, and the paragraph to which I pointed was devoted to the case in question. "The public," it began, "have lost a sensational treat in the sudden death of the man who was suspected of the murder of Enoch Drebber and of Mr. Joseph Stangerson. The details of the case will never be known now, though we were informed upon good authority that the crime was the result of an old feud and romantic feud in which the London bore a part. It seems, both the victim belonged in their day to the latter day Danes, and the deceased prisoner, hailed as a Salt Lake City. If the case has any other effect, it at least brings out most striking manner the efficiency of the detective police force and will be a lesson to all foreigners that do not wisely to settle their feuds and do not to carry them on to Britain. It is an open secret that the criminal cannot capture belongs entirely to the well known Scotland Yard. Messrs. Lestrade and Gregson, who were apprehended, it appears, a room of a certain Mr. Sherlock, who has himself, as an amateur, some talent in the detective line, who, with such instructions, may in time attain to some degree of skill. It is expected that a testimony of some sort will be presented to the officers as a fitting recognition of services."

"Didn't I tell you so when we were in the city yesterday afternoon?" cried Sherlock Holmes, with a laugh. "That's the result of all my study in Scarlet—to get them a testimonial!"

"Never mind," I answered. "I have, for the Tennessee division all the facts in my journal, and the public shall know them. In the meantime, you must make yourself contented by the consciousness of success, like the Roman soldier."

"Populus me sublat, at mihi plaudo. Ipse domi simul ac summe contemplantur."

THE END.

Rats' Teeth.

The teeth of rats are kept sharp by a very peculiar provision of nature. The outer edge of the incisors is covered with a layer of enamel as hard as flint, while the under side is much softer. The layers of enamel on the under side, therefore, wear away much faster than those on the upper surface, and a keen cutting edge is always presented.

HE SAID "HALT"

But Then Saw the Mail Wagon Driver's Pistol.

A Highwayman Was Unpleasantly Surprised This Morning Early.

WANTED TO ROB THE DRIVER

Bud Williams, the night driver of the U. S. mail wagon, had an exciting experience with a highwayman at the bridge crossing near the depot last night.

He had left the postoffice with the mail to make the 1:20 Louisville train and when he reached the bridge on Caldwell avenue, about three squares distance from the depot, a man emerged from the shadows of the bridge and demanded that he halt. Williams had a big pistol which he always carries at night and taking the weapon in one hand and the lines in the other drove on past the would-be highwayman. The man made no attempt to stop the horse when he saw the pistol in the hands of the driver and quickly disappeared.

CLASH BETWEEN MONKS

Thirty-Four Greeks, Including 12 Priests, Sentenced to Prison.

Trouble Arose Over Who Had the Right to Sweep the Church.

Jerusalem, July 11.—A sensational trial here, the result of the clash between Greek and Latin monks in the Church of the Holy Sepulcher, surrounding Christ's tomb, in November last, has resulted in the sentencing of thirty-four Greeks, including twelve priests, to terms of imprisonment ranging from a week to nine months.

The most interesting point which developed after the disturbance was the fact, not generally known, that Germany and Italy, in supporting the claims of their wounded monks, obtained an trade from the sultan recognizing their rights to protect their respective subjects, and that thus France's claim to an exclusive protectorate over all the Catholic clergy in the East is no longer admitted.

The dispute between the Franciscans and Greeks arose on the question as to which community had the right to sweep the church. Troops had been posted in the vicinity for several days previous to the outbreak in order to prevent the anticipated collision, but they were suddenly outnumbered and overpowered by the contending parties. There were several casualties on both sides.
